Quinzhee

The mother who sews clothes near the lamp talks about the joy of playing in spring. The children lined up in a row folding their fingers and counting down the days with joy. The hearth is mellow.

冬の夜

作詞者不詳/作曲者不詳

Spring is only a name. Because the wind is cold. The nightingales in the valley think of songs. But it is not the right time so they are not singing. The ice is thawing away and the reeds are horned.
